

CITY TAX MATTERS AND FOOTBALL MAIN ROTARY SUBJECTS

Address by Franklin Seale, city tax assessor-collector, on city tax matters, and Beauford H. Jester concerning the approaching football season, and a reading by Miss Ruth Matthews, radio artist and dance instructor, featured the regular luncheon-meeting of the Rotary club Monday noon. It was announced that President H. J. Ellis, who has been away on a vacation several months, would probably be back next Monday.

George Baum, chairman of the membership committee, made a report, and Joe E. Butler, chairman of the fellowship committee, will make a report for his committee next Monday.

The program Monday was in charge of Wayne R. Howell, H. W. Register and Dr. J. A. Jones. Franklin Seale outlined the various mandatory rates and also the various bond issues which made up the $240 tax rate in the city of Corsicana. He said the mandatory rates set by the city charter were two, schools and library, but there were 26 outstanding bond issues which had to be provided for.

The program Monday was a recent statement appearing in the Daily Sun to the effect that the $240 rate was the same as for the past three years, saying that it had been at that figure for the past six years.

Bonds and Tax Rates.

The following are the bonds, amounts and 1930 rate.

Two issues of creamatory bonds, $25,000, .0167.

Eight school issues, $1,113,350, .0611.

Five sewer bond issues, $120,000, .0604.

Three street issues, $300,000, .1517.

Five water issues, $465,000, .2285.

One park issue, $200,000, .0095.

One library issue, $5,000, .0028.

One market place, $25,000, .0113.

Total, $2,953,350, $1.05.

The present outstanding bonded indebtedness of the city is $1,987,850, Mr. Seale stated.

Continuing, he stated the general fund would be 40c tax this year. He said that the department was self-sustaining, and that the profits from the water department had been used in the making of improvements and extensions to the system, but that the officials were of the opinion that the water system had about all the needed improvements, and that the profits would be applied on the interest and sinking funds.

He said that of the total $240 tax rate 1,300 went to the schools.

Departmental Costs.

Among the departments noted and expenditures annually announced were:

Police, $26,000.

Tire, $2,000, on this fall.

Sanitary, $30,000.

Administration, $26,000.

Park, $2,100.

Street lighting, $2,400.

Beauford Jester stated that Corsicana coaches Pierce and Jeffries, were attending the prospecting school at Texas A. & M. College this week, and would return next week, and be in the issuance of equipment preparatory to the opening of the football training season.

He outlined the fine prospects for a winning team this year, and also outlined the schedule, with reference to the big games which will be played in Corsicana. He referred to the science and coaching of land immediately south of the present Tiger field by the athletic council, and said that new stands might be constructed on the north side of Tiger field this fall.

Next week's program will be in charge of H. D. Fillers, Charles G. Jester and John C. Calhoun.

Big Crowd Hears Returns

A huge crowd assembled in front of the Daily Sun and Semi-Weekly Morning Light office early Saturday afternoon and remained late to receive the returns of the election in the county and state races. Frequent cheering was occasioned by the returns as flashed on the screen and as announced through the system of loud speakers.

No fights or disorderly occurrences were reported.

The street in front of the Sun-Light office was roped off and a number of chairs were provided, but thousands were forced to stand in the street on the sidewalks and on the post office property.

There were 2,555 votes cast for the gubernatorial races in the four wards in the city of Corsicana. Sterling carried wards 3 and 4 by overwhelming majorities, also carried ward 2 over Ferguson winning 1,207 to 120, a majority.

He also carried the forty-four voting precincts outside the city by 124 votes.

The Navarro county democratic executive committee will meet in Corsicana Saturday morning to officially certify the returns of the gubernatorial election, according to an announcement Sunday.

MEMBER HUNGARIAN ROYAL FAMILY HAS RENOUNCED TITLES

ARCHDUKE ALBRECHT WILL EMIGRATE TO BRAZIL ACCORDING REPORTS

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Aug. 25. (P)—Archduke Albrecht intends to renounce all titles and privileges as a member of the Hapsburg family and emigrate to Brazil.

The Archduke Albrecht, candidate of the anti-legitimist party for the Hungarian throne, as he was considered, settled his opposition to Prince Otto at a formal audience in May with Prince Otto in the castle of Stenockereel in Belgium, residence of the former Empress Zita, when he swore allegiance to the legitimist heir apparent. This ended a long and bitter series of intrigues conducted by his supporters and enhanced Otto's chances for regaining the Hapsburg throne.

Recently the young archduke returned from South America and was reported seeking a bride, with his mother making every effort to prevent Albrecht's marriage to Madame Rudnay, for love of whom and not wholly to advance Otto's plans, he was believed to have abandoned his dynastic aspirations. Albrecht is forty-two years old. He recently spent four months in South America and held many conversations with the Argentine emigrants. His unexpected return to Budapest last Tuesday caused a sensation in royalist circles until he announced his intention to abide by his decision in favor of Otto.

Limestone Cotton Crop Very Short

MEXIA, Aug. 25.—(Sp.)—T. B. Lewis, county agent of Limestone county, predicts a production of not more than 30,000 bales of cotton in this county. That is less than a 50 per cent crop, the normal production being between 60,000 and 75,000 bales. Continued drought and extreme heat has damaged the cotton crop.

COUNTERFEITING BAND. BERLIN, Aug. 25.—(P)—Dispatches from Danzig state police here have uncovered an international counterfeiting band operating as an American trading company with headquarters believed to be in Chicago. The report says suspicious bank notes of all countries have been distributed through Europe by operators who have evaded detection by rapid shifts from one denomination and country to another.

COMMISSION HELD HEARING MONDAY ON PRORATION PROTEST

MEETING IS PRELIMINARY TO PUTTING STATEWIDE CUT INTO FORCE

AUSTIN, Aug. 25.—(P)—Preliminary to enforcement of a statewide oil production curtailment order, the state railroad commission today held a hearing on protests to the order, which was issued to become effective August 27.

Four major issues were to be presented, but it appeared probable that the hearing on the Big Lake field in West Texas would be indefinitely postponed. The other three subjects were proration of the Laredo and Coastal fields, and exemption of marginal wells from any curtailment order. Under the proration order, production was ordered cut to 750,000 barrels daily, as compared to 853,000 the present average.

Dave Donohue, technical expert for the proration committee of operators who has been conducting investigations into the possibility of curtailment of the output of the deep wells in the Big Lake field, said today that his report was ready but did not know whether the operators would agree to his suggestions. One of the wells, he said, was "running wild."

Operators in the Big Lake field said they feared to curtail production because they were not certain what effect pinching would have on the ultimate output of the wells, which are very costly to sink.

SENATE PERSONNEL WILL BE CHANGED AFTER NOVEMBER AS SEVERAL NOT SEEKING TOGA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(P)—Six senators are seeking re-election in November's elections, yet the number of familiar faces in the August chamber is bound to be decreased this year at least by two. Eight incumbents are relinquishing the senatorial toga.

The fall contests will bring back into the lists six democrats who passed from the senate voluntarily or through defeat. Six republicans and two democrats now holding office will not run again.

Frederick Huntington Giffet of Massachusetts, who will be 79 in October, former republican speaker in the house and now serving his first term in the senate.

Furnford M. Simmons of North Carolina, 76, the senior democrat in the chamber, who was defeated for re-nomination at this year's primary.

Despard Goff, 63-year-old West Virginia republican, who once was United States district attorney in Wisconsin, and later a member of the shipping board.

Arthur Robinson Gould, 73-year-old republican, filling the unexpired term of the late Bert M. Fernald of Maine.

Lawrence Cowles Phipps, 65-year-old republican, born in Pennsylvania, who worked 22 years for the Carnegie company before moving to Colorado, and who is known as one of the senate's richest—and least volatile—members.

Patrick J. Sullivan, 65, one-time Irish immigrant who herded sheep from the sixth Texas district, received a telegram from Senator Tom Connally of Texas Thursday, urging the sending of a telegram to the federal farm board at Washington, urging the loaning of ten cents per pound on cotton be authorized to aid and encourage cooperative marketing by cotton farmers.

The telegram received by Mr. Johnson was as follows: "Hon. Luther A. Johnson, 'Corsicana, Texas.' 'Please write the farm board, urging that it authorize a loan value of ten cents per pound on cotton. Have induced many other Southern senators to send such telegrams and have one from you would be of great help.'"

"Regards, 'Tom Connally.' The telegram from Senator Connally was sent to Congressman Johnson from Marlin, the home of Mr. Connally.

Following is the telegram sent to Senator Connally by Congressman Johnson: "Honorable Tom Connally, 'Marlin, Texas.' 'Have wired federal farm board as requested. Thanks for the suggestion. With kindest regards, 'Luther A. Johnson, M. C.'"

The telegram sent to the federal board by Congressman Johnson follows: "Federal Farm Board, 'Washington, D. C.' 'Earnestly urging that loan value of ten cents a pound on cotton be authorized, such action will encourage cooperative marketing by cotton farmers, materially assist in solving the present distressed condition of agriculture in the South and vindicate the wisdom of farm relief act. This is exceedingly important and I urge its favorable consideration at once. 'Sincerely yours, 'Luther A. Johnson, M. C.'"

Wild Geese Are Flying South In Mississippi

CLARKSDALE, Miss., Aug. 23.—(P)—Flocks of wild geese, the heralds of winter, have been flying southward in the Delta for a week. Geese usually migrate to the tropics about October and sometimes later. They never have been known to return to winter feedings so early as this year, say old timers, who believe it's a sure sign that winter is not far away.

Charleston and Cleveland also report having heard "honks" and seen large flocks.

Seeking to return are: Peter Gomez Gerry, 61, Rhode Island democrat, who served from 1928 to 1933.

Thomas Pryor Gore, 60, native of Mississippi, who, though blind, represented Oklahoma as a democrat from attainments of its statehood in 1907 to 1921.

THIRTY-THREE YEAR MYSTERY SOLVED BY NORTH EXPEDITION

BODY LONG-LOST POLAR EXPLORER REPORTED FOUND ON WHITE ISLAND

OSLO, Norway, Aug. 22.—(P)—A thirty-three year mystery of the arctic has been solved by the finding on White Island, Fridtjof Nansen Land, of the body of the Swedish balloonist explorer, August Andree, by a Norwegian scientific expedition.

Andre took off in a balloon from Dances Island, Spitzbergen, in July 1897, intending to fly to the North Pole.

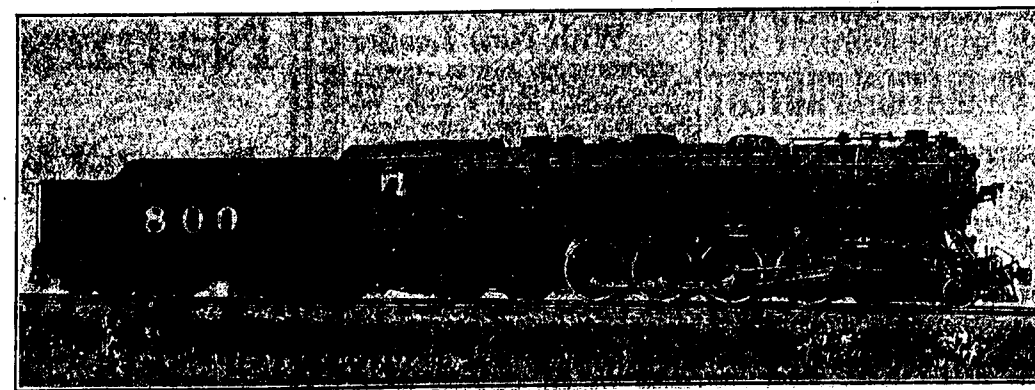

He and his two companions never had been seen or heard of again. The expedition which found Andre's body reported also the finding of the body of one of his companions. Both were fully dressed and well preserved.

The explorer, born in Grenna, October 18, 1854, is believed to have perished within a very short time after the takeoff for the north. His companion, K. F. Frenkel, an Austrian, died of pneumonia.

The expedition aboard the steamer Brattvaag did not say when the bodies were found. For years there have been periodic rumors that the balloon had been found in Siberia or that messages purporting to be from Andre had been washed ashore upon northern coasts.

At least two of the victims of the grim north got down safely to earth from the Andre balloon, for the bodies which the expedition is bringing back were found in the remains of a camp with the aeronauts had made on White Island.

NEW FREIGHT LOCOMOTIVES USED BY COTTON BELT

CO-OP MARKETING SERVICE EXPECTED TO IMPROVE STAPLE

BODY MAKES LOANS AND SELLS COTTON ON ITS INDIVIDUAL STAPLE

Corsicana's new cooperative marketing service should bring an improvement of cotton staple in this section, and add much to the value of the crop, according to W. C. Gillean, federally licensed cotton broker in charge of the Corsicana office of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association.

"The association makes loans, and sells every bale, on the individual staple value of that bale," he said. "The man who grows the better staple is paid its full value under this plan, but under the old 'point basis' or 'hog round' plan, all cotton is bought at an average value, determined by the average staple length. Joint buying usually gives the good staple man no more than the poor staple man, and there is no incentive to grow good staple. This is one of the reasons why Texas cotton has gone down and down in staple length until it is being pushed out of many markets by cheaply grown, inferior foreign cotton."

Dollars and cents resulting from the plan are shown by a survey of North Texas points, made by L. P. Gabbert of A. and M. Cotton at McKinney last season averaged 29-32nds of an inch in staple, and brought 18.2 cents a pound, while at the point having shortest staple, the length was 25-32nds of an inch and the price averaged 16.18 cents a pound, or $11.00 a bale less than at McKinney.

Cotton is classified immediately at the Corsicana office of the association. At points in this section where local receivers are named, cotton is sent to the Corsicana office for classing and local receivers handle all other details; make advances, payments, etc., just as the Corsicana office does. Reports from headquarters at Dallas show that several hundred percent more cotton is being sold this season than ever before under the cooperative plan.

LARGE NUMBER OF TOTAL POPULATION ARE SEEKING JOBS

MORE THAN TWO AND HALF MILLION WERE OUT OF WORK IN U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(P)—A total of 2,508,151 able-bodied Americans, comprising two per cent of the country's total population, were listed today by the census bureau as unemployed last April and looking for work.

The total was announced on the basis of preliminary returns from every section of the country. The bureau explained that six other classes of unemployed were not included in the present total, but added that those "without a job, able to work and looking for one" unquestionably constituted the bulk of those to be listed as unemployed.

Because tabulations have not been completed on the number of persons now gainfully employed, a definite comparison was not available. The bureau estimated, however, employed would approximate 40 per cent of the total population. This would bring the number of idle to approximately five per cent of the normally employed population.

A table giving the totals by states included: (Figures are subject to revision)

State	Population	Pet
Missouri	2,520,951	62,031
Kansas	1,879,046	22,031

Announcement has been made recently by officials of the Cotton Belt Route that ten of the latest type freight locomotives, known as the "800" or 4-8-4 types, will be placed in service over the Texas lines within the next few days.

The new engines combine all the latest developments of steam traction power, measure more than 100 feet in length with a gross weight of about three-quarters of a million pounds. The locomotives have 28 inch cylinders with a stroke of 30 inches, and have boilers made of a special alloy that carry 250 pounds steam pressure.

On a level stretch of road it is possible for one of the new type engines to handle a 140 car train, and it is possible for them to handle with ease a 75 car train from Texas divisions to the Pine Bluff consolidation yards.

A number of the engines have been delivered and all of them will be in service by the early days of September.

INCOME TAX CUT MAY BE CONTINUED FOR SECOND YEAR

HOOVER-MELLON OPTIMISTIC OVER POSSIBILITIES; REDUCE EXPENDITURES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(P)—Confidence on the financial sky lifted today with word from the White House and the treasury that prospects were good for continuing the present one per cent reduction in income taxes.

No promise was made, but President Hoover said prediction of a deficit that would prevent continuing the reduction was unwarranted and Secretary Mellon added there was a "probability" the lower section of government income taxes would be continued. As the reduction authorized by congress for this year was not made continuing, new legislation will have to be passed or the previous higher rates will return.

The two statements late yesterday followed earlier pessimistic forecasts by treasury experts. Publication of these gloomy reports brought a round of conferences and the optimistic announcements followed.

President Hoover said several items not taken into account in circulating the deficit could be counted upon to swell treasury receipts. Among these he cited increased customs receipts—temorarily reduced "because of advance imports to anticipate the new tariff law—increased construction at home and substantial payments on the debts of foreign nations. Not the least important in his list was the downward revision of government expenditures.

Partial reports on the drive for new economies in government departments, the President said, indicated a reduction of about $75,000,000. Several departments have yet to turn in estimates.

"A very real hope" of continuing the tax reduction was voiced by Mr. Mellon, who pointed out also that the last fiscal year ended with a $188,000,000 surplus.

The one per cent cut reduced personal taxes by about $100,000,000 in amounts ranging from $3.75 on $4,000 incomes to nearly $100 on larger personal earnings. Corporations benefitted proportionately.

LAST OF ORIGINAL HATFIELD FEUDIST FAMILY IS DEAD

BALTIMORE, Aug. 22.—(P)—William Anderson (Cap) Hatfield, known as the last of the Hatfield McCoy feudists of West Virginia and Kentucky, died today at a hospital here at the age of 67.

With Hatfield when he died were his wife, a son and a daughter. He was brought here a few days ago from his Logan, W. Va., home, suffering from a brain ailment that had no connection with a wound sustained in the long feud of a half century ago which took several score lives. His father, Anderson Hatfield, known as "Devil Anse," died in 1921, past 80.

"Cap" Hatfield was a large, powerful man of a picturesque type. He once confided to friends that many of his old time foes believed he had a charmed life, saying he "guessed" he had shot about 300 times and was wounded but once during the mountain warfare.

Credited with a remarkable memory, Hatfield was an entertaining conversationalist but refused in later years when the facts of the most notorious of American feuds became obscured by time, to outline an authentic account of the events.

One account of participants credited the feud with having started with a quarrel over ownership of some hogs.

After I had taken it a month or two, I began to gain, and I weigh at present 168, and have weighed that for some time. I am now 55 years old, and can do as much work as the average middle-aged woman can."

"I would advise any woman, who is weakly and in a run-down condition, to try Cardui, but not to expect one bottle to make her well. I take two or three bottles a year, now, and I feel fine."

REPRESENTATIVE NAMED TO CONFER WITH COMMITTEE

GOV. MOODY NAMES AMARILLO BANKER AS FIRST DROUGHT RELIEF STEP

AUSTIN, Aug. 23.—(P)—Gov. Dan Moody took steps today to obtain federal aid for drought stricken Texas counties with the appointment of W. H. Fuqua, president of the First National Bank of Amarillo, to represent Texas at a conference in Washington at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Fuqua will be the banker member of a Texas drought committee to be completed as soon as the governor is advised by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde of the plan of organization. Fuqua will meet with bankers from other states in the drought stricken areas.

At the same time, the governor wired Secretary Hyde asking for further details of the plan for relief of drought stricken areas.

"We have not received the plan of organization referred to in your wire of August 20," the governor wired, "but I am organizing a committee. Drought conditions in Texas are desperately serious. Reduced freight rates should be allowed on livestock and feed stuffs throughout Texas, in addition to the counties in which such action already has been taken."

Governor Moody has received information from twelve counties, largely in the plains area of Texas, below the panhandle, were asking for relief. These requests stressed the need for reduced freight rates.

Counties from which communications have been received were Dickens, Jones, Callahan, Hall, Coleman, Brewster, Childress, Henderson, Cottle, Motley and Ford.

In addition it was known that cooperative organizations in this section had petitioned railroads for reduced intrastate rates although these petitions had not yet been brought to Austin.

The procedure would be that in the event the railroads do not apply to the state railroad commission for reductions, the applications would be brought directly to the commission by the increased parties, and hearing held on the merits of the petition.

PROHIBITION ISSUE CLEARLY DEFINED FOR PARTICIPANTS ILLINOIS SENATORIAL FIGHT

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 23.—(P)—The prohibition issue in the Illinois senatorial campaign was clearly defined today with Ruth Hanna McCormick, the Republican nominee's pledged to abide by the voters' decision in a referendum, and James Hamilton Lewis, the Democratic candidate, standing on an out and out "wet" platform.

Mrs. McCormick, who had always been considered a dry, announced at the Republican state convention here yesterday that she stands ready to obey the mandate of the voters in the triple referendum on prohibition to be decided Nov. 4, the same day as the senatorial election.

Her speech followed the announcement of the state 3 O. P. platform containing a prohibition plank almost identical with Mrs. McCormick's stand. The plank, which pledged Republican representatives in congress to carry out the will of their districts, was considered a compromise between the wet and dry factions in the party.

The Democrats, meeting Wednesday, following the lead of their standard bearer, former Senator Lewis, in favoring the repeal of all prohibition legislation.

In the first statement she has made on prohibition since announcing her candidacy for the senate, Mrs. McCormick reaffirmed that she was personally a dry. She said, however, that she was a member of the Republican party which "pledges itself to be responsive to the will of the people" and she outlined specifically what course she would take if the various referendums are carried.

If the voters favor repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment she said she would vote to submit the question to the states. If the people decide for modification of the Volstead act she said her course would be "in sympathy with the principle as approved, but the definite course to be pursued would be dependent, of course, upon the nature of the modification demanded."

Mrs. McCormick added that "until the constitutional amendment is repealed or until the Volstead act is repealed or amended, I stand squarely for enforcement of both measures."

E. E. Cross Corsicana high school teacher, who returned Friday from a 30 days' industrial tour of the North and Eastern parts of the United States, left Saturday for his home in Bonham, where he will spend the rest of the summer with relatives, until school starts here on Sept. 15.

E. W. Melver returned from an extended trip late Friday to points in Arkansas and Missouri.

Lets Start Now to Go Back To Work

YES—we must all go to work—hard work if you please if we expect to get anywhere these days, says the busy Business Man of today.

The quicker we forget our political differences and go to work the better off we will be, and the time has come for action.

We should take a complete inventory of our business and its sundry problems, as well as take an inventory of ourselves, in order that we can "check and double check" our shortcomings if we have any, and correct and adjust them to meet the modern trend of the times in order that we can keep in the procession.

We must get out of the rut and make new and definite plans for an aggressive and persistent attack for our full share of the season's business.

The business is here for us if we just reach out after it. Let us keep our minds on our own business instead of the other fellow's, pushing forward with a vim and vigor that we have never attempted before and we will all be surprised at the outcome.

Yes, we have to get up and get, and the sooner we do so the better it will be for this is no day for the swivel chair and the buzz fan.

There are as many mouths to feed and as many bodies to clothe, and as many wants to satisfy as in the past, with the good roads opening up a wider trade territory for us to enjoy.

It's here, there and everywhere for the alert, aggressive and persistent go-getter.

Will you join the busy business man by moving on, or will you sit idly by on the side lines waiting for something to happen in your favor? If you do you will be greatly disappointed.

What we did last year and the year before has nothing to do with what we are to do now and in the future.

The past has gone forever and the sooner we forget it and make your plans for the present and future the better it will be.

The all important thing now is what we must do to get our share of the business that is in waiting.

The time is here for action---will you step in line or fall by the wayside?
Your success all depends on you

DROUTH INSURANCE.

Drouth will cause a loss of approximately $500,000.000 this season. It is a serious economic blow, not only to the agricultural industry, but to the nation as a whole, for it is a fundamental principle that the prosperity of agriculture means the prosperity of the entire country.

This nation-wide disaster calls to public attention the fact that agriculture is the only one of the great industries that has not taken full advantage of insurance to protect itself against periodic losses due to natural causes. To be sure, the practice of insuring farm buildings against loss by fire is general, but the chance that his buildings will be struck by lightning or otherwise damaged by fire is one of the farmer's least risks. Burning of isolated country buildings is of rare occurrence and the great majority of farm houses and barns endure through half a century or more without such loss. As evidence of this is the fact that farm insurance rates are moderate and a great deal of such insurance is maintained successfully by small local mutual insurance companies organized among the farmers themselves.

But while the farmer's risk through fire loss is slight, he is subject to varied and repeated crushing losses from other causes. The labor of an entire season and his hope of income may be completely lost through hail, rain, wind, excessive heat, flood from ram-paging rivers, crop pests and diseases of plants and animals. Among these, the most frequent and persistent destroyer is the drouth.

Drouth is a preventable evil. In lands where rain during the crop development season is not expected, irrigation solves the problem. And in many semi-arid regions methods of dry farming are practiced which conserve the small supply of moisture and bring crops to maturity.

But dwellers in the fertile and well-watered districts, though experiencing frequent losses because of drouth, seem always to be taken off guard when the normal rains fail. Always they are expecting that it will rain "tomorrow." Thus they neglect to provide a water supply which would add greatly to their costs of maintenance if not needed, nor do they avail themselves of the dry-farming methods because, for the most part, they are untrained to them.

The tremendous calamity brought upon agriculture by the present drouth may stimulate general interest in crop insurance, and thus may be not without lasting benefit. Crop insurance has so far developed in certain phases of agriculture and in some sections as to demonstrate its feasibility. The Federal Farm Board with its vast revolving fund co-operating with farm co-operative societies might well attack this problem. Perhaps in no better way could the federal government encourage and assist agriculture.

Corsicana's water supply is sufficient to last over a year even though not a drop of rain fell in that time. The city lake has withstood the heavy drain of the summer months with no indication of a water shortage in sight. The people of Corsicana are using over a million gallons of water daily now.

The "norther" met a "warm" welcome in Corsicana and the short break in the high temperature records of the past few weeks was greatly appreciated by the stay-at-homes.

And counted up my feeble score,
Then comes the time to take the
Which waits beyond a swinging door.
Oh, cleansing stream and cooling spray
What matter if my game be sour.
Not even Bobby Jones, I say,
Than I can more enjoy a shower!

Though others tread a straighter
path
And make the longest holes in "four."
In golf's refreshing aftermath
There are no blunders to deplore.
Though all my drives have gone
astray,
And shown an utter lack of power
No golfer in the world today
Than I can more enjoy a shower.
The nineteenth hole attraction hath
For some whose throats are parched and sore.
But I prefer to cool my wrath
Outside as well as in. Therefore
The wagers lost I quickly pay
And cry: "Comes my triumphal hour
None of you champions, anyway
Than I can more enjoy a shower!"

OIL AND GASOLINE.

Continued over-produc-tion of crude petroleum is a fact. Continued cheap gasoline is another fact. The public interest clearly calls for over-production of pe-troleum and for continuance of an ample supply of good cheap gasoline.

How to accomplish both these things, the latter in some ways dependent upon a large supply of petroleum, is considerably more than we can say. From time to time, nevertheless, develop-ments have practical bear-ing and meaning. In Cali-fornia, for instance, a "gas-o-line war" recently came to an end after lasting two months. The price to the public sank to ten cents a gallon over a large area. In particular towns gas sta-tions anxious for new busi-ness at any cost were "giv-ing away" at three cents a gallon, the amount of the state's gasoline road tax.

Here in Corsicana doubt-less motorists with the oil companies would serve up a feast like that—gasoline for nothing or next to nothing. Yet no better proof of un-healthy conditions in the oil industry could be had. The effect is evident toward fur-ther stimulation of over-produc-tion of petroleum and toward selling rivalry that involves costs which the public in the end must pay.

About the whole question, the best is that, notwith-standing episodes like the California gas war, there are indications of progress. Kenneth R. Kingsbury, president of the Standard Oil of California, a big figure in the national oil industry, re-cently pointed out in an in-terview that, whereas the po-tential oil production in Cal-ifornia now is over a million barrels a day, "all the Cali-fornia fields are now under a proration agreement call-ing for 596,000 barrels a day."

This is wholesome; but Mr. Kingsbury brings out an equally big truth by saying that a next step remains to be attained which is equally important in conservation, that is, "orderly and stabiliz-ed refining and marketing" of gasoline and all oil prod-ucts.

a measure by not yielding to them in a manner to ac-cent their effect. Once it was the practice to adver-tise one's age. Now age is to a considerable extent dis-regarded. When one begins to give much thought to it, it will the more make its effect felt. However, the person of 65 ordinarily will not care for what were the pleasures of 25. Age is manifest in our changing desires to a greater extent than in personal appearance.

Corsicana's tax rate re-mains at $2.40 per $100 val-uation with total assessed valuations of approximately $13,000,000. The val-uations show an increase of ap-proximately $100,000 over the previous year with new buildings and improvements amounting to half the gain.

The average man, as he goes along in life, accumu-lates more disposition than money.

IS HE GOING TO BEAT US TO IT?

FIRE IN 1930.

During June, the fire loss in the United States was $31,818,266 — $1,787,397 in less than in June 1929. We have, however, nothing to be proud of, as this is the first month in 1930 in which such a decrease has been record-ed. The total loss for the first six months of the year was $242,339,771, corre-sponding to $230,092,795 for the same period last year. In short, we have so far de-stroyed over 12 million dol-lars worth of property more than in 1929.

It cannot be too often re-peated that the United States has the most gigantic fire loss, both total and per capita, in the world. Our carelessness in the matter of fire has become a national menace—and a national dis-grace. Every year we sacri-fice thousands of lives and a half million dollars in property values. And at the most conservative estimate, at least eighty per cent of this waste is entirely unnee-cessary.

Two factors are responsi-ble for the waste—careless-ness and ignorance. It is carelessness in the matter of fire that we must first at-tempt to drop cigarettes when we finish with them; let wiring go unattended; pile trash in corners, and the like. Ignor-ance has bred the attitude of "Let the insurance company pay for it"—as if insurance companies could pay losses without, in turn, collecting from policy holders! It should be thoroughly un-derstood that every fire, whether or not the property is insured, represents a per-manent economic loss that must be paid for, directly or indirectly, by the entire com-munity.

Our fire loss will go down when American citi-zens take common sense pre-cautions in their homes and places of business and when they are no longer deaf and blind to the simple rules of fire prevention.

AN ENCOURAGING SIGN.

One of the most encour-aging signs of the times is the great amount of atten-tion now being given the problem of accident preven-tion by individuals, officials and private organizations. The terrible toll of fatali-ties due to the automobile, which last year reached the record figure of 31,000, must be reduced. Laws to keep the congenitally reck-less and incompetent from highways must be passed in every state. Financial re-sponsibility laws which dif-fer from compulsory insur-ance in that they place the burden where it belongs—on those who cause acci-dents—have been tried with success in several states and are proposed in others. The drivers' examination law, lives and property must be

FARM ROADS AND WHEAT PRICES.

Ever since its inception the Federal Farm Board, in its efforts to stabilize prices for agricultural products, has been buying wheat with public funds. Recently wheat prices took another drop and the board now has on hand millions of bushels which are worth far less than it paid. Overproduction of the commodity increases. Ex-President Coolidge re-marked: "We shall learn through experience that that kind of farm relief will not work."

There is, however, one kind of farm relief program that will work—that which looks toward providing agriculture with all possible producing and marketing fa-cilities. One of the pre-em-inent factors in such a pro-gram must be the construc-tion of farm-to-market roads in every farming state. The American Farm Bu-reau Federation has pointed out that at present an over-whelming majority of our farmers are cut off from their markets during several months of each year by im-passable roads. They are isolated from civilization al-most as definitely as if they were in the interior of Afri-ca.

Modern surfaces make it possible to build paved, weatherproof, long wearing secondary roads at a low cost. Agriculture, the most necessary of all industries, must have them to progress and prosper.

BACK SEAT DRIVERS.

Like a good many other jokes, that about the back-seat driver contains a mea-sure of justice. The good intentions of the back seat driver seldom have been questioned, but his, or her, usefulness seldom have been conceded, particularly by practical automobile opera-tors.

Now, however, arises an expert who says that the vol-unteer assistant motor car navigator from the rear is a distinct safety adjunct.

Leon Whitsett, state rail-road commissioner of Cali-fornia, announced recently that statistics in his office in-dicate that sixty per cent of all accidents occurring at railway grade crossings be-long to automobiles having but one occupant. The front-seat driver has not the warn-ing of the voice from the rear. "The logical deduction from this is," says Mr. Whit-sett, "that in moments of peril, four eyes are better than two."

is being advocated through-out the nation.

The great majority of the people are competent, care-ful and responsible. Their lives and property must be protected.

WALKING ON THE ROADS.

Pedestrians and drivers are frequently at odds in traffic adjustments, but their interests coincide in the demand for footpaths on the main highways.

Walkers have as much right as motorists to use the road when no sidewalks are provided. They do so, quite aware of the danger, be-cause they have no separate lane. Against their will, the highway pedestrians are the bane of motorists, who must thread a way around them. The job is ticklish in broad daylight and dangerous after dark. There will con-tinue to be accidents as long as foot travelers and motor vehicles use the same groove.

There is increasing pres-sure in behalf of pedestrian paths. In some quarters wide shoulders for pedes-trians on all highways are suggested. The American Society for Municipal Im-provements recom-mends that no highway be without a pedestrian path.

Some traffic problems are complex. But here is one that is simple and readily answered at no extravagant cost in most cases. More-over, it suggests a way to relieve highway congestion without building wider roads. Use of a highway by vehicles and pedestrians of-ten makes, in effect, a single lane highway of a stand-ard two-way road.

Aimee and her militant mother again break into the first page news—Aimee with impaired eyesight and mother with a broken nose—alleged to have been the result of a misunderstanding between daughter and parent. Until this recent hap-pening the home battles have been confined to verbal barrages—that is so far as the public is informed.

Idle query—What hap-pened to all those crusaders against high check-reins on horses?

He may be stopping to get the jack to hold up the car or to hold up a car to get the jack.

The trouble is that these fast drivers never are going anywhere, not even to jail.

Conscience is an excellent thing. It says you shouldn't and thus provides the kick.

It is all right to follow your natural bent unless it makes you crooked.

ADDITIONAL ZUTA DOCUMENTS GIVEN CHICAGO PUBLIC

NUMEROUS OTHER ANGLES RACKETEERING EXHIBITED; MORE OFFICIALS INVOLVED

CHICAGO, Aug. 22. (P)—The lids of Jack Zuta's strong boxes were torn from their hinges today and hitherto unknown contents scattered for and wide.

Reams of additional papers and records were made public by the investigators, some relating to public officials, some to gangland activities.

Attorney Ben Laube, of Gary, Ind., said he was the writer of a letter mailed to Frank Gross of Gary from Orlando, Fla., and signed "Em" found in the possession of Zuta, who was slain in a Wisconsin lake resort three weeks ago.

Laube said he had been retained by Gross, a Gary real estate man, to negotiate the purchase of some hotel property in Florida.

"I've been Gross' attorney for six or seven years, and I made several trips to Florida for him last year," he told me that some Chicago men were going to finance the Florida deal. The transaction later fell through when Gross could not raise the money.

Attempts See Officials.
The letter to Gross mentioned "my son made several attempts to reach Gov. Doye of the Corn Exchange Bank Trust company."

Laube said his son was a news-paper man in Florida at that time. "I don't recall why I wanted to see Gov. Carlton and the other Flori-da officials but it probably had something to do with the real estate transaction," Laube said.

Another document, described by the investigators as a police con-fession, told of the attempts of "Mops" Colpa and Joe Genaro, no-torious Chicago gangsters, to kidnap and hold for $50,000 ransom a man named "Jack."

Helen Delmer, a New York night club hostess, made the confession. She said Genaro brought her from New York to solve a "lune. A tip-off to the police caused the arrest of the girl and the ransom plot was thwarted, the investigators dis-closed. However, it was not dis-closed how the session came in to Zuta's possession.

Gunmen Correspondence.
Another batch of correspondence, from Louie La Cava, one time Zuta ally and later a police informant, was described by Pat Roche, chief investigator for the state's attor-ney, as showing Zuta's power in Chicago.

La Cava was sought as a sus-pect in the sensational murder of Assistant state's attorney William McGowan several years ago. One letter from La Cava, Roche dis-closed, asked Zuta to "fix it" for him.

A $500 check, drawn in 1922 and signed by "Zack Zuta," was made payable to P. W. Rothenberg, for-merly a deputy coroner and now a republican ward committeeman.

Another check for $2,000 was issued by Zuta in 1927 to Simon Herr, law partner of former judge Emanuel el Eller, who was also given a check by the slain vice monger.

A picture of Alderman George M. Maypole, taken with his wife and daughter, was among the papers found in Zuta's posses-sions. On it was inscribed: "With regards, from the Maypoles, Hot Springs, Ark."

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 22. (P)—Governor Doye E. Carlton and other officials and residents mentioned in a letter and telegram found in the effects of Jack Zuta, slain Chicago gangster, today said they were unable to explain the correspondence.

J. L. Laube of Chicago, whose name was given in the letter as a return address, said he knew nothing of it.

Governor Carlton, with whom the writer said he had sought in-terviews, said he knew "absolutely nothing" about it. State Senator John Watson of Miami said he was ignorant of the matter. At-torney General Davis could not be reached.

LABOR LEADERS ADDED TO RULERS OF UNITED STATES

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(P)—James W. Gerard, former ambas-sador to Germany, has added five names to his list of fifty-nine "men who rule the United States."

The additions he telephoned to the New York Times from Newport, R. I., where Mr. Gerard is the guest of General Cornelius Van-derbilt, are:

Sidney Z. Mitchell, chairman of the board of the Electric and Share company, and a large owner of public utilities.

Walter Edwin Frew, chairman of the board of the Corn Exchange Bank Trust company.

Amadeo P. Giannini, founder of the Bank of Italy and of the Trans-American corporation, the world's largest holding company of bank securities.

William Green and Matthew Woll, president and vice president respectively of the American fed-eration of labor.

In a pamphlet endorsing the crusade of Lord Beaverbrook and Viscount Rothermere for empire free trade and a high British tar-iff, published in London several days ago, Mr. Gerard wrote of "Forty men who rule the United States" and suggested such men as a high British tariff could mend England's fortunes in ten years.

New York Times to name the forty men, Mr. Gerard gave out a list of 59.

Note of Optimism

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 22.—(P)—A note of optimism for drouth ridden farmers was sounded by the state board of agriculture to-day with the assertion that cov-ers a crop of hardy crops, if mated before cold weather, will fill the bins of farmers and save them thousands of dollars for feed.

The state drouth relief com-mittee has sent suggestion sheets to farmers throughout the state, urging them not to sell poultry and livestock now. Some of the farm-ers were faced with the necessity of selling their cattle and hogs or purchasing feed for the winter months.

Harry B. Cordell, president of the state board of agriculture, said that if late hay crops mature prop-erly, half the drouth problem will be solved. Winter wheat and bar-ley, he said, will make good late feed crops.

Wisconsin to Aid Livestock
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(P)—Wisconsin has offered relief to livestock raisers in the drouth stricken areas of western states.

Charles L. Hill, chairman of the board of agriculture commis-sioners in Wisconsin, today tele-graphed Secretary Hyde that Wiscon-sin could use western sheep and steers and that the Wisconsin Banking Shares corporation of Milwaukee, could make loans for feeding them.

C. W. Warburton, director of ex-tension of the department, advised extension directors in Montana of the offer.

CHINESE BRIGANDS SLAY FIVE HUNDRED IN LOOTING TOWN

TOWN IN HONAN PROVINCE IN RUINS, 500 DEAD AND 800 HELD CAPTIVE

SHANGHAI, Aug. 22.—(P)—A carnival of looting and killing in Hancheng-chen, western Honan prov-ince, was reported by Chi-nese press dispatches today saying brigands had slain 500 persons, looted 300 shops and abducted 800 persons whom they were holding for ran-som.

The dispatches said the brigands, numbering more than 2,000 fell up-on the virtually defenseless city two weeks ago, and as a result of their occupation, the town was practically in ruins.

Yesterday, the reports said, the marauders left Hanchengchen, tak-ing with them their captives. The bandits were said to be making their way toward the west, and seeking their hide-aways in the mountains of Eastern Shensi prov-ince.

With the bandit army went prac-tically everything of value in the town. It was said. Inhabitants of the town and surrounding country were said to be terrified as a re-sult of this invasion.

PRESIDENT LEGUIA, VIRTUAL DICTATOR FLED ON WARSHIP

years has been one of the stormiest in the history of Peru. He received his early education in Chile and served in the Peruvian army from 1879 to 1881. Later he entered business and became head of the Latin-American department of an American insurance company. In 1903 he turned his attention to politics and five years later he was elected president.

Trouble developed quickly and in May, 1909, a revolution broke out in Lima which nearly cost him his life. The revolt was put down and he resumed his term which was rather stormy, with foreign complications. In 1913 Leguia was driven into exile and for six years was forced to remain out of his native land. In 1919 he returned to Peru and was again president. Claiming that he had been warned he would be prevented from taking office, he headed a revolt and seized the government by a coup d'etat.

Since then Leguia has remained in power, the constitution being amended in 1920 and again in 1927 to permit his reelection.

Modern President.
Mr. Leguia was one of the most modern presidents of Latin America. He is a thorough cosmopolitan, who lived for years in England and Europe and has frequently been in the United States. He was associated with various foreign commercial enterprises while living outside of Peru, and has an extensive acquaintance with bankers and commercial men throughout the world.

Mr. Leguia speaks English, French and Spanish with equal fluency. His wife was Miss Swayne an English woman, and he has three sons.

Mr. Leguia's activity in modernizing Peru was frequently attacked by opponents who charged he was placing too great a burden of taxation upon the republic. But Leguia was instrumental in rebuilding and modernizing Lima and carried out a broad program for road building and the extension of the school system. He always contended that Peru could not avail of its natural resources without improved transportation facilities, and drove through with road building programs in spite of his opponents.

Under Leguia Peru underwent many changes and caught step with the more progressive republics of the new world.

President Leguia left power less than two months after a similar military revolt triumphed in Bolivia, the southern neighbor of Peru.

Army Officers Join Revolt.
BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 25.—(AP)—A Lima, Peru, dispatch to La Nacion today said Peruvian army officers, most of them young men, met today and agreed upon a military government presided over by Gen. Manuel Ponce. They then informed President Augusto B. Leguia, against whom a revolution in Southern Peru has been directed, of their expectation that he would resign.

The dispatch did not make clear the connection of the new military government with the cabinet appointed last evening by President Leguia to replace that resigned yesterday noon.

It was believed, however, that the son of the younger military figure may have marked the turning of at least a section of the Lima garrison from the president to the side of the insurgents, who were reported from Arequipa as having established there a provisional government.

Another Government.
BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Dispatches from Arequipa, Peru, today to La Nacion said insurgent groups which have taken over that city and section southern Peruvian departments have set up a provisional government there.

Colonel Sanchez Cerro heads the revolt.

The following cabinet officers were named:

Minister of War—Major Alejandro Baeza.

Minister of State—Dr. Jose Luis Bustamante Rivero.

Minister of Finance—Dr. Manuel Vinelli.

Minister of Posts—Major Ruben Castillo.

Minister of Transportation—Major Julio Arboleda.

Comptroller—General Gustavo Delajara.

Large numbers of citizens at Arequipa have enrolled in a defense corps to uphold the revolution.

The city retains every aspect of normality. There has been no fighting.

The dispatches said that the entire south of Peru, including seven departments, was in the hands of the insurgents. The fourth army division at Cuzco went over to the insurgents who now as a consequence control the departments of Arequipa, Puno, Cuzco, Madre de Dios, Apurimac, Moquequi and Tacna.

The fourth division adhesion to the movement reinforces its military forces by five regiments and field artillery.

American Investments Heavy.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—American investments of considerable size are believed by commercial observers in the capital to be directly in the path of the armed outbreak in Peru.

State department and Peruvian embassy officials, however, were without official word of any kind today from the disturbed South American country, and refrained from comment on the situation.

American Is Held By Revolutionists

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—The American embassy at Lima, Peru, advised the state department today that Captain Grow of the American naval commission to Peru was captured by revolutionists at Camana on the morning of August 24.

He is Lieutenant Commander Harold E. Grow of the naval reserve and holds the title of captain in the Peruvian navy.

Grow resigned from active status in the navy two years to accept an appointment as director general of the Peruvian air forces.

Although working with the United States naval mission to Peru, he was not attached to it because of his civilian status.

The embassy is seeking assurance of his safety, communicating through informal channels with the revolutionists.

American Plane Seized
Inquiries are also being made by the embassy regarding the seizure of an airplane by the insurgents of an airplane of the Faucett aviation company. Elmer J. Faucett, an American citizen listed as a resident of Savoy, N. Y., who heads the company is believed to be in Arequipa.

Two out of the four army divisions were reported in revolt. Anti government demonstrations were underway to be taking place in the north but there was no active revolt.

Anti-government demonstrations went on in the streets of Lima at 7 p. m. Sunday. The embassy in a telegram dated today at 1 a. m. said the military situation was growing apparently more confused, with President Leguia still in the picture, the military cabinet having refused to take office.

Efforts by Leguia and officers to select a governing committee from the army and navy were reported to be under way. The American charge de affairs, Ferdinand M. Meyer, reported in the same cablegram that he had just been around the city and had found it quiet, with police patrols stationed everywhere.

The Peruvian ambassador to Washington, Manuel Freyre de Santander, today had received no official communication concerning the revolt.

Embassy officials said they did not consider the insurgent movement would affect the embassy or Ambassador Freyre, as he had been a career man since his youth, and has always abstained from politics.

Grow was born in Greenville, Mich., 39 years ago. He was graduated from the naval academy in 1912.

BRITISH SUFFER SEVERELY IN FIGHT WITH TRIBESMEN

repulsed by the Kurium militia with heavy casualties. A fresh attempt has been made to raise Afghan fighting forces in this region but the native officials are persuading the tribesmen to disperse.

Plan Early Offensive

Police and Natives Clash
NAGPUR, Central Provinces, India, Aug. 25.—(AP)—One policeman is missing, several seriously injured and one native dead as a consequence of a fight Saturday in the village of Shahapur, Betul district. Many natives were injured.

The disturbance began when the police attempted to arrest a leader of a mob of thousands of Gonds—low caste natives—who were breaking the forest law but did not succeed. They then charged but could not break up the gathering.

It was necessary to call more police before the riot was restored.

CALCUTTA, Bengal, India, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Two bombs were thrown at a motor car occupied by Sir Charles Hegart, police commissioner, today. Both exploded in the road, injuring the driver and damaging the motor car but leaving Sir Charles unhurt. One of the assassins was hit by flying fragments of his missile and was mortally wounded.

Tegert was driving through Dalhousie Square, in the European business quarter, when the bombs were thrown. Sir Charles sprang from the car, chased the second assailant, whose flight was halted by the police. Another man also was arrested with two bombs in his possession.

It is believed that four men were concerned in the affair.

Large Liquor Laden Ships Await Chance To Unload Cargoes
BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Unmolested today in the Canadian waters of Lake Erie are four, possibly five, ocean-going steamers laden with liquor. All are awaiting favorable opportunities to discharge their cargoes to small boats, the duty of which will be to dash through the American cordon of coast guard boats, if possible, and land cargoes on the shores of New York, Pennsylvania, or Ohio. Seventy-five coast guard boats have been mobilized in the American waters.

FIVE MEN ATTEMPT HOLDUP

LEAD PARTY IN CLEVELAND, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Three alleged members of a robbery gang were charged by police today with murder of Miller Wilkinson, 21-year-old Princeton University senior, who was shot to death early today when the gang held up a party of 40 guests in a fashionable Shaker Heights residence here.

Police Lieut. Fred Clarke said two of the arrested, Mike Bell, 16, and his brother Angelo, 20, confessed and named the third man arrested, Ross Valone, 18, as the engineer of the plot. Firing of the fatal shot was admitted by Angelo, Clarke said.

The Bell brothers each was wounded in a leg, apparently by their own gun fire as they fled from members of the party and from police.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25.—(AP)—A gay party of young folks from many of Cleveland's prominent families ended early today in a melee with holdup men and the fatal shooting of one guest.

Miller Wilkinson, 23, led a group of young men in resisting five robbers armed with rifles and pistols and was shot in the head after police arrived and engaged in a gun duel with the intruders. Wilkinson, a senior at Princeton university, was the son of Fred F. Wilkinson, dealer in investment securities.

The party was given at the home of Ray S. Dunham, one of the city's best known realtors, for friends of his son, Donald. About 40 persons were present.

The elder Hunham said he was in the kitchen when his son ran in shouting, "get the police, five men are trying to rob us."

Hunham ran out to the garage but was unable to get his car because of the profusion of guests' machines. He ran to the front of the home, where he saw the young men backing the holdups off the porch.

"You guys are afraid to shoot, why don't you start something," Wilkinson was taunting the robbers, Dunham said.

One man raised a rifle as if to fire and Wilkinson grappled with him. At the same time the other guests seized the remaining gunmen and a free-for-all fight started.

Meanwhile a neighbor had called the police and three patrolmen arrived while the scuffle was in progress.

The New Psychology in Action

EMPTY HANDS.
Mrs. T. writes: "I am 52 years old; my children are grown. The idea of being left with none of the children at home has upset me until I can hardly stand it. I know these things are only natural and I don't want to let them get me down. The doctor has had me give up my church work, clubs and everything. I find when I am interested in anything I am not depressed."

Answer: Raising children, carrying on a business, or nursing a sick patient is like war work in that it engages all our interest and energy until the task is accomplished. Then all of a sudden there is nothing for our hands to do, nothing for our energy to expend itself on and we have that terrible let down feeling that Mrs. T. describes.

The close of the war was a catastrophe to many fine women, who in its activities had found their first opportunities for service. There is in all of us a constant, definite need of self expression. It is the urge of the libido (li-bee-do) or life energy that flows without interruption until old age lessens our vitality. The rearing of a family affords woman an abundant outlet for the flow of this energy, as Mrs. T. can testify. A business career for a woman may nearly fill the bill, but never quite so completely as do the home interests.

May I drop in a word here, Mrs. T., about our men folk in general? We might call the man Mr. X. Y. Z.

There is in men—although it may surprise you to hear such a theory advanced—less of this driving urge than there is in woman. A business career satisfies him, although often he has a hobby that takes care of the excess energy. Woe to the man of 60, or there-about who has no hobby by which to "step-down" his high power current of vital energy when he quits business, thinking to conserve his health by idleness. Such a course precipitates a nervous breakdown, which is only a foolish way of expending energy. Or, with the drop of his spirit which comes from the suggestion that he no longer counts in the world, there sometimes comes an actual depression of bodily forces so that ill health takes hold of him.

As to the wisdom of your doctor's advice, Mrs. T., there is some question. If your interest in church work had flagged completely, it was better for you, less depressing in fact, not to attempt to go on with that work and with club activities, than to have been overtaken and fail. So far the doctor was right. But the real secret of escape from depression is in having hands and mind busily engaged in some urgently needed work.

Use yourself in plans that fit in with your husband's immediate future. In the very nature of things, his need for your help grows with the years. A minister of the gospel in his present day needs a wife who is up in all the current sociological questions. If she can aid him in gaining an understanding of psychology, that is all to the good; for psychology can prove a close second to religion in being medicine for sick souls. With the children on their own, make yourself into a full working partner for your husband. Then I believe your depression will clear away as the fog lifts before the sun.

Tomorrow—Hands Off.

ONLY ONE BIDDER FOR AIRMAIL ROUTE ATLANTA-WEST COAST

TWO BIDDERS ON NEW YORK TO LOS ANGELES ROUTE COVERING 2595 MILES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—The Robertson Air Craft company combined with the Southwest Air Fast Express was the sole bidder for the 2,008 mile air mail route between Atlanta and Los Angeles, it was shown today in the opening of the bids at the postoffice department.

Two bids were made for the 2,595 mile New York to Los Angeles route. The Western Air Express made one in conjunction with the Transcontinental Air Transport concern. The other was by the United Aviation company of Pittsburgh.

The Robertson company and the Southwest Express bid 100 per cent of the maximum rates set forth in the Watters act for carrying over the route from Atlanta by Birmingham, Dallas, Fort Worth and El Paso to Los Angeles.

Aviation Company Conjunction Western Air Express and Transcontinental Air Transport bid 97.5 per cent of the maximum for the route from New York through Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Indianapolis, St. Louis and Kansas City to Los Angeles. The United Aviation company of Pittsburgh bid 64 per cent of the maximum rates over the same route.

By entering its bid, United Aviation virtually announced itself ready to make a test case of the postoffice department's ruling on night flying as set forth in the first advertisement for bids under the Watters act.

This advertisement, which resulted in today's opening of bids, ruled that only concerns which have operated night flying over a 250 mile route for a period of six months were eligible to compete.

COMMISSIONERS IN SESSION ON MONDAY MEET HOME AGENT

Miss Jane Sowell, new home demonstration agent for Navarro county, successor to Miss Mattie Wilroy, who goes to Sherman, Grayson county, in a similar position, was formally introduced and presented to the Navarro county commissioners' court Monday morning. Right of way matters were discussed and discussion relative to the sale of bonds in the Consolidated Road District No. 1 was held.

County Attorney H. B. Davis, attorney for the Humble Oil company, and several company officials, appeared before the court with reference to the moving of pipelines, etc., in the Humble company on the right of way on the Corsicana-Palestine state highway. The estimates of the work which would conform to the requirements of the state highway department totaled approximately $5,000. The Humble company donated the right of way. An estimate of approximately $1,000 for the moving of certain lines, etc., of the Tidal company was also made. No definite action was taken.

Guy M. Gibson, who procured the right of way for the court, stated that the agreement with the Humble company for the company to donate the right of way and that the county would move the machinery, etc.

Bond buyers appeared before the court with reference to the sale of either $325,000 or $349,000. The proposition was to hold the sale at the Monday afternoon session.

Miss Sowell was accompanied to the court meeting by Miss Wilroy and Miss Jennie Camp, district agent.

PARACHUTE JUMPER WELL KNOWN HERE, KILLED ON SUNDAY

GOCELSOR, Minn., Aug. 24.—(AP)—George H. Babcock, 29, of St. Paul, a parachute jumper, was killed at an amusement park here Sunday while attempting a five-parachute jump.

Babcock leaped from a plane 2,500 feet in the air. Two of the chutes strapped to Babcock's body opened. Two failed to open, while the fifth opened only a few feet above Lake Minnetonka, too late to be of any help.

Babcock was crushed as it struck the water.

Babcock had his Texas home in Tyler and was well known to Corsicana aviation fans. He was one of the outstanding attractions at the opening of the Corsicana Municipal airport in April, 1929, when he performed a number of parachute jumps and wingwalking stunts. He returned to Corsicana in the spring of 1930 and presented a Sunday afternoon exhibition.
